RHODE ISLAND FOOD SYSTEM: 2016 SNAPSHOTS

This fact sheet is one of a series developed for every Rhode Island municipality, in order to give Rhode Islanders a better sense of the current impact the food system has on individual communities, and a better understanding of the network of businesses, agencies, organizations and institutions that make up our local food system. A food system encompasses all of the processes involved in feeding people: it includes the production, harvesting, and processing of food; its distribution and marketing; its consumption (whether at home, in schools and institutions, or in restaurants); and ultimately, the recycling or disposal of food waste. The fact sheets present a dynamic “snapshot” of the local food system, and provide data to track and measure progress towards growing our food system. Data is aggregated from a range of sources, so we invite corrections or additional information that will help us more accurately represent Rhode Island’s local food system.

DEFINITIONS AND DATA SOURCES

RHODE ISLAND FOOD SYSTEM

PRODUCTION & HARVESTING

Farms

The 2012 USDA Census of Agriculture estimates there are 1,243 farms in RI but does not provide data by municipality. No single RI entity maintains a count of farms by municipality. The numbers provided are the best data available at this time.
